Well-Deserved Recognition

Announcement has been made that Earl Hall, widely known Iowa newspaper man, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, a Lee newspaper, has been named 1954 winner of the $10,000 Criss Award and gold medal.

The award, largest of its kind in the United States, established to honor outstanding contributions in the fields of health and safety, was so richly deserved by Mr. Hall. No-Johnny-come-lately to the ranks of those seeking to contribute to safety on American highways, Mr. Hall's interest in organized safety programs reaches back to 1926 when as Iowa State Community Service director of the American Legion he launched one of the first organized safety campaigns in the nation. A tangible fruit of that campaign was the posting of safety signs on the fringes of all towns in Iowa.

A few years later Mr. Hall assisted in the organization of the Mason City Safety Council and founded the Iowa State Safety Council. He served as state council president for five years and has been a member of its board since that time. In extensive travel during the next two decades he gave safety lectures and more than 250 high school commencement addresses, never neglecting the opportunity to emphasize the sacredness of human life in the ever-mounting toll of highway accidents. As a member of the Iowa State Board of Education, Mr. Hall was instrumental in promoting a driver training course for Iowa high schools, a course now in operation throughout Iowa.

That is only a small part of his activities for safety.

Perhaps a single sentence expressive of his devoted service to safety ideals is the real answer to the problem:

"When nine out of 10 people in America want safety—want safety enough to pay the price of safety—we will be on the way to having safety overnight."

There it is in a very few words. Safety is a matter of individual dedication. And because Mr. Hall has contributed so much to the crusade to save human life, his newspaper associates and his widespread circle of friends rejoice in the deserved recognition which has come to him.

Bright Blue Weather

After a summer that saw the Midwest simmer and sizzle on the overheated griddle in the vast weather kitchen wherein Dame Nature concocts her most intricate and sometimes highly indigestible menus, Nebraskans were breathing deeply of the crisp cool morning air that merges into a warmer midday, and slides back into a refreshing chill again when the sun drops beyond the horizon. Almost to a man, they were proclaiming this their favorite of seasons, with September skies taking on a newer, deeper blue, sunsets a color miracle on a western canvas, and bittersweet and oak leaf vying for laurels in vivacity . . .

Out on the farms the pleasant days of Indian summer are taken for the pleasure they afford, but the diligent rural dweller will explain to one not versed in country ways that this also is a time of preparation, of fixing and doing and making ready for the winter months ahead. There are buildings and fences and machinery to be repaired, and hay baling and storing for hungry livestock. When these jobs are finished, Mrs. Helen Marr urges those of the Walthill neighborhod, in fact all Nebraskans, to take time for leisurely drives along country roads, and there observe the loveliness to be found along river banks and the wooded areas abounding in "the color, warmth and plenty of autumn." Too often we think of scenic beauty only as that of some far distant mountain or ocean front, while that beneath our very noses goes unobserved. Like charity, she says, travel should begin right at home . . .

Another farmerette and her family are busy with silo-filling as "green loads of fodder come in rapid succession, tractors buzz by the door, chickens scatter from the lane and our little dog chases each load and barks his disapproval." Mrs. LaVerna Hassler, writing in the Nebraska Signal, describes it as a "feeling of satisfaction to know the barn is bulging with feed for the winter." She has her eye on two dozen Bartlett pears in the orchard, wondering if maturity or frostbite will be their lot. The Hasslers' cottonwoods have started turning a sunny yellow as flights of ducks and geese pass overhead, southbound, and the blackbirds flock together on nearby patches of green. Meanwhile, she is "ready for cool evenings, munching apples and popping corn. A good book and an easy chair complete the picture of a delightful evening at home.". . .

The Kenneth McDonald garden plot up Sherman County way looks "a little sad now after the reaping is all done," but Mrs. McDonald finds her solace in the cellar and the deep freeze where shelf upon shelf of canned and frozen foods will soon provide easy, nutritious meals. Tired from her labors, she will "probably wish I'd stashed away even more before the winter is over, even though now I'm positive there's enough for Coxey's army.". . .

A pheasant project on the Sacramento Lake area southeast of Holdrege saw 5,000 birds arriving from Wisconsin, an undertaking directed by John Stephen and one which the Holdrege Citizen describes as "no job for the birds." There are watering, feeding, chasing, and clipping of all 5,000 slippery little fowls to be taken care of, and five men are kept busy in setting up pens on the reserve that will embrace over 2,300 acres. It is estimated, according to the Citizen, that "72 hours and a few gun-shots after release, these pheasants will be completely wild."

Virg Hill hums the scale all the way from doleful to delighted in his comment that "all of a sudden it's fall and the leaves are doing just that . . . Typical husbands, of course, are easily convinced that permiting leaves to remain in the grass makes an excellent mulch.". . . "The nicest part of the year," Francis Rea calls it, in the Schuyler Sun. "You can freeze to the bone during the winter and get drenched to the skin in the spring. You can fry under the broiling sun of the summer, but if you're lucky enough to be around when autumn comes—then you're in for some pleasant living.". . . A. C. Huber of York notes the signs—the beginning of long, cool nights meant for football games and sleeping, and "other significant things in the air." Fall's beginning is also a time for revival of political interest, "a time for members of the spit-and-argue club to gather around the stove and talk about what's wrong with the country."

Smart Librarian

The neatest trick of the week so far as we know was staged by a Westfield, N. J. librarian. Faced with the problem of moving his library to a new location, he solved most of the bother by asking all the library's patrons to draw out eight books each for the usual two weeks. They did. And he moved with practically no effort whatever.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Something of the mounting shadows slowly engulfing Nebraska farm homes was called to the editor's attention as a result of a telephone call late last week.

The story in its simplest details: The voice on the other end of the telephone told of the surprise which a northeast Nebraska farm wife encountered when recently she took 30 dozen eggs to market. She received $4.50 for the lot. That averaged out about 15 cents a dozen. Needless to say, this Nebraska farm wife was angry. Not only she but a number of her neighbors are understandable victims of developing conditions out on the farm. The incident aroused our curiosity, primarily because through the years we have known how the Nebraska farm women rely upon what they call their egg money and the extent to which at times it covers some of the needs of the Nebraska farm family. We took a little time off to check. We were told of another case in Gage County where the owner of a flock of 1,000 hens concluded that the smart thing for him to do was to dispose of his hens as rapidly as possible. He claimed that it cost him 25 cents a dozen for the feed consumed by his hens. And in the neighboring county to the west, Jefferson, the editor was told of one case in recent days where a farmer marketing 79 hens received a check for $45.

Farm Wife's Egg Money

Now, irrespective of charges by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and others who have been endeavoring to sell the Eisenhower program to the people of the Midwest, the least that can be said of this current development affecting thousands of Nebraska farm families is that a serious threat faces a prosperous agriculture. It is true that when it came to egg money, conditions throughout most of 1953 were better than during the preceding year. But even though it can be explained that in some instances the current price for eggs represents the price paid for the pullet crop, the fact remains that the farmer's cost of production is out of line with what he receives for eggs, and what adds to the farm wife's worry is that the situation seems to be getting worse, that egg-feed ratio, based upon egg prices, has declined since 1953 from 11 to 6.9 pounds.

★

It may seem like a little matter of trivial consequence. Recently the editor during a trip to a central Nebraska community noted with interest the large poultry flocks on so many farms during the course of a 200-mile drive. Our egg money in Nebraska is important. Frequently it, coupled with returns from poultry in the aggregate, exceeds the cash return from some of the smaller grain crops. It is no new experience to farm people in this state to look to milk, cream, butter, eggs and poultry to provide a substantial part of the money they spend for the things they need. Recently an unsigned letter came to this desk inquiring if the editor favored socialization of America's farms. Its unknown author seemed to feel that the farm program based upon a support price at 90 per cent of parity was an unforgivable subsidy to American agriculture. When it comes to governmental paternalism, surely most of the American people recognize that it did not start with the farmer and that for many years he fought a losing battle against it.

In Defense Of Farm

We are interested in a prosperous agriculture, and we believe most Nebraskans are. We are confident that over a 20-year period the overwhelming majority of people in this state recognize that Nebraska farms staged a remarkable comeback from the days of the depression of the early 30's, accompanied as it was by a prolonged drought. Things have not been going nearly as smoothly as they did before Mr. Benson took over. The Midwest farmer is finding himself hemmed in more and more as the months fly by—pinched and squeezed. Mr. Benson may have any number of explanations for the plight which the farmer now finds himself in. But the first fact of life out on the farm is that that plight is becoming increasingly serious.

Power Lobby Big But Not Closely Watched

WASHINGTON — It's been a long time since the Nation's capital saw a real, honest-to-goodness rock-bottom probe of the biggest lobby in Washington, namely the public utility lobby, which, according to the official records filed in the House of Respresentatives, spends more than any other pressure group. However, as a result of the Dixon-Yates deal, such a probe is now being discussed.

Two members of Congress would like to conduct it. They are: Sen. William Langer of North Dakota, nominal Republican, and Congressman Sterling Cole of New York, 100 per cent Republican.

Senator Langer, who is head of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has already tried to stage an investigation. He persuaded Sidney Davis, former assistant to Justice Hugo Black, to leave a lucrative law practice in New York and undertake a monopoly investigation.

But from that point on, Langer found himself stymied. Senator Jenner of Indiana who, as chairman of the Rules Committee, controls the purse strings of all Senate investigations, would not let Langer have a red cent to probe the utilities or any monopoly. Davis ended up paying his own expenses, and even those of witnesses, while Sen. Langer finally decided to take three big law cases in order to finance his investigation.

FRIEND OF UTILITIES

The other solon, congressman Sterling Cole, who would like to probe the Dixon-Yates utility situation, is chairman of the joint committee on atomic energy and already has a certain amount of investigative money at his disposal. However, he smiles so benignly on the big utility-atomic combines that any probe conducted by him would mean little.

Congressman Cole even tried to wipe out the Eisenhower proposal to let all private companies share in a five-year pool of new Atomic patents. The original Eisenhower atomic bill provided for such a pool because some big companies which have been favored by the Atomic Energy Commission have the inside track on new atomic patents, and it was considered only fair to let less-favored companies have a chance to catch up.

Democratic leaders amended the bill in the Senate to make it a ten-year instead of a five-year pool, but when the bill got back to the House, Congressman Cole knocked out the patent pool altogether — despite pleas of fellow Republican Sen. Hickenlooper of Iowa to stand by the Eisenhower program.

The debate illustrates how far Cole leans over on the side of the big atomic-power combines. A lot of people wondered why, and this may be the explanation.

COLE'S BACKGROUND

Mrs. Cole, the former Dorothy Thomas, is the daughter of the secretary of the Corning Glass Company of Corning, N. Y. Cole is also a great friend of Amory Houghton, chairman of Corning Glass. Houghton and the Corning glass crowd are Cole's best backers.

Corning Glass, in turn, manufactures glass bulbs for General Electric, has close ties with G. E.

And General Electric, of course, is one of the biggest companies already having a foot in the atomic-energy industrial door and wanting to get in further. It is among the companies which might not wish to pool its atomic patents with other companies.

Congressman Cole has announced that he will probe the Dixon-Yates contract. Sen. Langer has announced that he will do likewise. It will be interesting to see who gets the investigation money from GOP leaders.

MYSTERY MAN GIVES

If you look over the private records of mystery-man Henry Grunewald it's easy to understand why certain people would like to get him behind bars on a perjury charge. First, they would like to impeach his veracity; second, they doubtless would like to get him in a place where he has less chance to talk.

In talking to Grunewald myself I found that he had receipts to show that he had contributed heavily to the Democratic National committee, plus cancelled checks from ex-Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, Republican, plus an account of cash contributions to Governor Dewey and Herbert Brownell totaling $13,000 when Dewey ran for president in 1944 and 1948.

"To be fair to Mr. Dewey," said Grunewald, "He said, 'is this cash?' I said yes. 'Well,' he says, 'I can't handle that, but I'll introduce you to a fellow whom you can give this money to.' "

Grunewald then was introduced to a man he later found was Herbert Brownell, now attorney general, then Dewey's campaign manager. The amount then contributed was $3,000. Later Grunewald said he gave Brownell another $5,000 in cash "in the presence of Gene Tunney," and in 1948, another $5,000.

Grunewald said he had given $1,700 to the Truman campaign, and he produced a letter from President Truman thanking him. He also produced a receipt signed by Howard McGrath, chairman of the Democratic national committee, for $500; another signed by Joe Blythe, Democratic treasurer, for $500; another for $1,000 signed by Blythe; a receipt for $500 signed by Sidney Solomon, a St. Louis friend of Truman's. These contributions were given during several campaigns.

Grunewald produced a canceled check to ex-Senator Brewster of Maine dated 1941 for $2,500. This was in addition to the $10,000 he advanced Bewster in 1950 —$5,000 each on behalf of Vice President Nixon and Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota.

"Did Nixon ever thank you for that?" Grunewald was asked.

"No," he replied.

"Has he ever helped you in your present troubles?"

"No."

"Did Nixon record that $5,000 in California?"

"I don't know."

British Labor Cool To An Armed Germany

LONDON — Some British domestic politics is involved in the sudden, swift search of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for an acceptable form of German rearmament.

A sizable chunk of British voters has just made it clear in a rather roundabout but unmistakable way that it has misgivings about rearming its old acquaintances of the blitz and buzzbombs. They are labor voters, it is true, so the immediate problem belongs to that world traveler and author, Clement Attlee.

But Mr. Eden has been leaning comfortably on a bipartisan approach to foreign policy in which Attlee helped to take care of the Bevanite danger. Also a Gallup Poll has just shown that labor could now win a general election—an omen of popular support for labor views that no sensible politican would disregard.

The Tory foreign secretary may well feel that time is of the essence, before a drift is set in motion which cannot be stemmed.

What Mr. Eden is said to have in mind, to still the alarms and excursions of his right wing and the labor left, is a proposal for some kind of inspection system for all the forces committed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This would include Germany, since he hopes to bring Germany into NATO.

It would also include two great NATO powers — the United States and Great Britain — who for themselves would not accept the curbing of their sovereignity which was an integral part of the defunct European Defense Community. Just how Americans and British — civil officials, military commanders and public opinion — would feel about giving NATO inspectors wide powers over their NATO units is a question.

In the case of the United States and probably Britain, such inspectors might come uncomfortably close to the atom or even nuclear fission. This is admitted here. It is still argued that the Germans will rearm and that now, rebuffed on EDC, they probably cannot be made to do more than any of their Western associates are willing to do.

British spokesmen recall that an inspection system was at the heart of the original U.S. program for international control of the atom as put to the United Nations by B. M. Baruch. Thus Americans have already approved the principle as logical and practical, it is argued.

The upset in British politics came during a congress of the British trades union, the biggest and staunchest pillar of the Labor party. The congress is generally accepted as a preview of the party conference next month.

Unexpectedly a routine resolution that a rearmed Germany should have a share in Western defense passed by only a narrow margin with a card vote of 3.6 million against the general council which recommended it. Assuming that the unions vote again at Labor's party conference as they have done, they possibly may, with the Bevanites, defeat the Attlee leadership.

Such political arithmetic can be changed by the march of events, notably, the congress showed no signs of swallowing some Russian propaganda in the form of an enticing invitation to send a trade union delegation to Moscow, and voted it down hard. Nevertheless, the headlines read that opponents of German rearmament may have conquered the Labor party.

This development in the field of foreign policy is almost as bad news for Sir Winston and Mr. Eden as for the present Labor party executives.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Spencer Ticket; Other Sundries

As the deadline for a piece such as this grows closer, the writer grows more and more nervous.

Sometimes the week has been so full of news it can't be decided what to use and what not to use. Other times such as now, a host of ideas run around in your head but none of them big enough to call for three pages of copy.

Bill Dobler

As you look ahead to Monday's Council meeting, you know there will be enough there to keep you busy all day but you can't think of any one thing that tops the list. You know Mayor Clark Jeary will make a report and the Council will dispose of the Police Chief Joseph Carroll and Judge Harry Spencer speeding ticket.

You look at that one and wonder what you can say about it. First of all, you think that the whole thing should never have happened because Spencer, as a public official, should have paid the ticket in the beginning and then forgotten about it.

Then, you mull over the fact that Carroll dismissed the ticket when he knew it was against the rules. Not the most laudable thing he ever did, you figure, but what more can you say about it?

Fire the chief? Not likely over a $6 ticket dismissal. Give him heck? That's o.k. but the Council will probably take care of that itself without any prodding.

That subject soon begins to lose its attractiveness. Some good will probably come of the whole thing through a better understanding of who is in authority in the city but it doesn't lend itself to a lot of words here.

As you continue thinking about people, you remember that Deputy City Attorney Jack Pace is to be moved up Monday to head city attorney. Now there, you say, is a good subject.

It is remembered how Pace has always had an answer to any question you could ask and how he can always be found in his office. It can be concluded that the Council could not have found a better man for the job or one any more familiar with municipal law but aside from the fact that the appointment was a good one, there is nothing else to say.

While individuals still occupy the center of thought, you wonder if anything can be found to say among the Council members.

Unknowingly, the thought occurs of why Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme would indicate her approval of a city employee's attending a convention on city time and then voting against an allowance of funds for the individual to make the trip . . . Then there is Hugh Thorne—nothing there, he is too quiet for you to know anything about what he might do before he does it . . . Joe Fenton enters the thought and you wonder if he will have a new joke Monday morning . . . When you come to Chauncey Kinsey, you remember first how much better he looked and seemed to feel the second week after he returned to city business after a long illness as compared to the first week back and you hope if there is room for more improvement, to see it Monday . . . And that thought reminds you that Rees Wilkinson has been out of the hospital for several weeks now and may be back at Council meeting Monday . . . That leaves Pat Ash. It can't be remembered that he will have anything particular Monday, even though you know he is likely to come up with something at any time.

Since the pickings are slim among the Council members, there might be some issues coming up that could be discussed.

It is hard to say what, but something might happen on the Winthrop Road sidewalk. The worst part about this issue is that there is no good answer to it.

How can you argue against Mrs. Orme, for instance, when she says she wants the walk constructed from Van Dorn to Plymouth for the safety of children going to and coming from school?

On the other hand, what about the property owners along the street? You can certainly sympathize with them in their desire to stop the walk construction to save their trees and shrubs.

You remember the beauty and shade of your own pinoaks and wonder what you would do if their existence were threatened. You end up here thinking as you have before—that you have no desire to be a member of the City Council.

With the thought of the Council's approving University Place Park as the site for the new swimming pool, surprise is registered over the fact that this is not an "issue." Despite the fact that a number of areas wanted the pool in their midst, the problem has been settled quickly and without any heated controversy.

While on that subject, the thought occurs that, offhand, you don't like the possibility of the city's hiring another "expert" to prepare plans on the pool but you decide to reserve comment on this until you know a little more about all the circumstances.

And lo and behold, you discover you have rambled yourself clear of this week's column. Next week, who knows when or where a fuse will be lighted?

Kudos For Carroll

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We citizens of Lincoln are most fortunate to have such a man as Joseph Carroll at the head of our police department—an honest, capable and efficient chief whom we admire, respect and thank for such faithful, loyal and self-sacrificing service to our city. We owe much to a chief and a police force for the protection they afford all citizens of the community.

We wouldn't be safe on the streets at night without their vigiliance.

I vote thanks for a job being well done.

Non-Leading Leaders

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This administration has furnished more leaders and less leadership than any other administration of the 20th century.

For example, we seem to have some half dozen men running our state department. Most of our people are deeply interested in foreign affairs and we all had a confident feeling that in Ike Eisenhower we had exactly the right man to take care of our diplomatic, armed services departments. From time to time he has made rather colorless and not very vigorous essays at carrying the flag in these vital sectors but they have not been very inspiring nor carried through to any effective conclusion. This sad lack of leadership has resulted in one disaster after another: Indo China. EDC. Geneva. Percentage wise it would be safe to say that our prestige has probably fallen more during the past year than during anytime since we rejected the League of Nations in 1920. President Eisenhower is a fine stalwart American and we all love him. Only trouble is he doesn't have the inspiring leadership that is essential in this dismal crisis.

The whole free world is going to ruin for want of a man with the leadership of a Teddy Roosevelt or a Winston Churchill and he is not in sight. The president is the one essential man in the world for this job. But he is not leading. The peripatetic John Foster Dulles skims about the earth and nothing happens. He talks the "New Look," "Massive retalitation," "agonizing reappraisal," and nobody seems to give a damn. Communism marches on; our alliances crumble; our friends desert us and our prestige in the world sinks lower and lower. The commander of the American Legion, Seaborn Collins, has just summarized it succinctly by saying, "The free world is losing the struggle against Communism."

It is not because we are potentially weak, not because we lack industrial might or man power. God knows it is not because we do not have a holy cause. It is simply because we lack the inspiring leadership to organize the free world into a great militant army.

Ike Eisenhower has a rendezvous with destiny. Destiny is knocking on his door and he has gone fishing.

U.S. Decline Slightly Less

Nebraska farm land values in the last year have declined by seven per cent.

This fact was included in figures released by the Agricultural Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. With its dropping land values, Nebraska has a lot of company; the service announced that average prices for land values declined in every state in the union.

The larger declines in value took place in states west of the Mississippi. This was the result of lower farm incomes in states in which drought was severe in 1953 or where beef cattle are one of the main sources of income. Colorado values dropped 10 per cent, New Mexico and Arizona were off nine per cent and Wyoming and Oklahoma land dropped eight per cent.

The figures covered the period between March 1, 1953 and March 1, 1954. The Bureau of the Census valued all farms in the United States at $87,580,000,000 on March 1 of this year. This represents a drop of $5,100,000,000 from the year earlier—a national decline in land value of 5.5 per cent. For the entire farming region of the United States, voluntary sales of real estate declined 13 per cent for the year.

Nancy Farnsworth Is Bride

Three hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Nancy Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stoddard Farnsworth, and John Arthur Graf Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Graf of Talmage, which took place on Sunday evening, Sept. 26, at the Trinity Methodist Church. With pale pink and Chanel red introduced as a motif for the appointments, and the costumes of the bridal attendants, the chancel was arranged with tall pink candles in seven-branched holders, and fans of fujii chrysanthemums, pompons and roses in the pink tones, against a background of greenery. The red carpeted processional aisle was marked on either side with lighted candles, spiralled with smilax and caught with clusters of pink blossoms.

The Rev. Vance Rogers solemnized the 8 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Charles W. Tritt, organist. Mrs. Tritt also accompanied Carter Cole who sang preceding the ceremony.

Wearing alike frocks of red velvet and tulle, the attendants included Miss Mary Ann Chambers of Phoenix, Ariz., the maid of honor; Miss Caroline Graf, Talmage; Miss Janelle Mohr, Scottsbluff; Mrs. Thomas Jones, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Kenneth Wayman and Mrs. John Mills, the bridesmaids. The bare-shouldered bodices, framed with soft folds of velvet and tulle and worn under brief bolero jackets, narrowed to slender waists beneath which the velvet flared into deep scallops over the voluminous floor-length skirts of red tulle. Their small petal half-hats were fashioned of pale pink velvet, and they carried crescent bouquets of red glamellias and roses. Miss Charlotte Hervert and Miss Nancy Norman, in pink satin choir robes, lighted the candles.

Darwin McAfee of Talmage served Mr. Graf as best man, and seating the guests were Forrest Christensen, Lyons; Lt. Don Irwin, Ft. Riley, Kan.; Donald Peters, Brock; Lt. Charles Palmer and Lt. Andy Briscoe, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

A gown of blush pink silk satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The long-sleeved bodice, designed with a low, heart-shaped neckline contoured with blush pink pearls, was snugly fitted and completed at the waist with narrow satin piping. The soft folds of the exceedingly bouffant skirt swept into a long, cathedral train. Imported French illusion in a soft shade of pink fashioned the triple-tiered fingertip veil which was held to the head with a small pill box of pink satin, and she carried a pink muff covered with pink orchids.

An all pink motif was suggested in the appointments for the reception which was held in the Great Hall at the church following the ceremony.

After the honeymoon trip east Lt. Graf and his bride will reside in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Graf attended Monticello College in Alton, Ill., and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and of Alpha Kappa Delta. Lt. Graf attended Wentworth Military Academy, and also was graduated from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

TOWN TALK

WE'RE guessing that all of the Monday quarterbacks will be discussing the pros and cons of the Saturday game at Minnesota—and maybe will have a few suggestions to offer on how to take care of Iowa State at the Nebraska stadium next Saturday—But since we're not in the football business we'll leave that department to the specialists and devote our energies to the news—

* * *

AMONG the very nice things we have heard this ayem is that Mr. and Mrs. George G. Swingle are to be host and hostess at a 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock party this evening at their home—We might add there is an extra-special reason for the party—but we can't tell.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that Miss Bonney Varney, whose marriage to Paul Reger will take place on Monday, Oct. 4, paid a brief visit to Lincoln last Tuesday, and that in addition to last minute shopping she also found time to attend two courtesies.

The first party was a luncheon for which the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. John C. Whitten was hostess at her home—

And on Tuesday evening Miss Varney was again complimented when Miss Sarah Fulton entertained 10 guests informally at a buffet supper at her home.

* * *

HEARD that Air Cadet Sidney E. Anderson, who is stationed at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Tex., arrived in Lincoln on Thursday, and was at the station Thursday evening to meet his family, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson, when they returned from Chicago.

* * *

AND mention of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Chicago reminds us that they were just one-third of a sixsome that had gone from Lincoln to attend a stationers' meeting in Chicago—Completing the group were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Latsch and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Reed who also returned home Thursday evening.

* * *

FROM Falls City this week end came news of the birth of a son, Joseph Hart, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gatz on Friday, Sept. 24, at Immanuel Hospital in Omaha. Mrs. Gatz will be remembered as Miss Josephine Weaver, Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska.

Joseph's arrival gives his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver of Falls City, one more than a baker's dozen of grandsons — 14 — and only three granddaughters.

* * *

BUT back to Minnesota and last Saturday's game just long enough to tell you we found another Lincoln foursome in the Nebraska cheering section—Dr. and Mrs. James R. Curry and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Anderson who made a Friday-to-Sunday stay in the Twin Cities.

FOR one bridge eightsome, at least, the season opened on Thursday when the group met for a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. John Hallett —Following luncheon tables were placed for bridge.

The travelers first went to Miami Beach, Fla., where Mr. Salisbury attended the national convention of Post Office Supervisors. Following the convention at which Mrs. Salisbury represented both the Lincoln and state auxiliaries, the couple visited Washington, D. C., New York City and New Canaan, Conn., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cox (Meda Mae Albrecht), formerly of Lincoln.

En route home, Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury visited friends and relatives in Ohio and Illinois.

NAA Plans Its Classes For Children

Organizational plans for Saturday morning art classes for children, sponsored each year by the Nebraska Art Association, were completed on Saturday morning when the committee met at the home of Mrs. F. B. Baylor who, with Mrs. M. G. Volz as co-chairman, heads the group. Serving as secretary of the children's art class committee this year is Mrs. Richard Garlinghouse, and holding the office of treasurer is Mrs. Earl Coryell.

The classes, which will begin in October and which, as usual, will be held in the department of art at the University of Nebraska, will be in charge of Manfred Keller, a member of the art department faculty, and his assistant, Mrs. Cynthia Tenderup.

PREP, GENEVA SOLIDLY ON TOP

Jays, Wildcats Win Again; Gothenburg Leads Class B

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

Creighton Prep and Geneva are as solid as one of Stan Musial's line drives as the second prep ratings of The Star go into the Nebraska high school football record.

The Junior Jays from Omaha and amazingly competent Geneva Wildcats from Fillmore County lead the Class A and Class C fields respectively as they did last week.

But in Class B there was an explosion out in Dawson County where the Gothenburg Swedes pummeled a fair Minden defense by 32-0 and leaped to the top of the Class B pole.

Gothenburg advanced from its third postion of last week as York, the No. 1 squad, fell before Seward and Blair, No. 2, suffered from comparative scores.

Gothenburg has stopped a good Central City team and pounded Holdrege, and now Minden joins the ranks of the Swede victims.

Mitchell Up

Mitchell, third last week and the conqueror of Scottsbluff, moves to second while Seward and Wahoo split third.

Seward and Wahoo tied in the season opener. Each has stopped two opponents since that game.

York is fifth after the 19-18 loss to Seward in that traditional battle.

The Central City showing against Gothenburg brings that club into the ratings in sixth, one jump ahead of Blair, a team which suffered prestige when two earlier victims — St. Bonaventure and Westside — were unimpressive against unrated teams.

Lincoln's Cathedral is eighth after blowing down Fremont St. Pat's, 44-0. The Bluebirds will be tested by St. Bon's this week.

St. Bonaventure is ninth while Hebron, Tecumseh and Curtis — each with a sound record—share tenth.

Geneva belted Fairbury to stay ahead of Grant in Class C. Grant stopped undefeated Trenton, 19-0.

Syracuse handled Humboldt, 20-6, to keep third and Clarks was slick against undefeated Stromsburg in a 26-0 triumph.

Hastings St. Cecelia earns fifth after pushing St. Bonaventure before losing, 13-6. Callaway won the battle of the undefeated against Ansley, 16-12, to jump to sixth. Ansley falls to tenth.

Oakland recovered from the Tekamah defeat and walloped Pender, 37-6, to make seventh. Undefeated Weeping Water is eighth with three victories, the latest over Louisville, 40-18.

Hemingford from the northwest beat undefeated Gordon of Class B, 27-0, and seizes ninth.

Lincoln High continues to breath on Prep in Class A. The Links clouted Sioux City Central, 39-6 while Prep nailed Omaha Central 35-7.

The Junior Jays take this week off while Lincoln travels to Grand Island in one of the big games of the season.

Grand Island belted Columbus, 51-6, but trails the Northeast team which broke the Islander victory chain the preceding week. Northeast stays in third.

The Rockets, a team which has won three games by a total of eight points, slipped past Fremont, 13-12.

Fifth belongs to Omaha Benson, undefeated and victorious over Omaha South by 17-0. Alliance, moving well now, is sixth after crushing Ogallala, 33-12.

Omaha Tech won its first game of a tough schedule, 18-7 over Omaha North. The Maroons are in seventh ahead of North Platte.

Sidney appears in ninth and Falls City closes the class.

Eagles Rout Browns, 28-10, In Opener

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterbacks Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk each pitched a pair of touchdown passes Sunday as the Philadelphia Eagles routed the Cleveland Browns in a National Football League game with a superiority not indicated by the 28-10 final score.

A crowd of 26,546 sat in on what appeared to be a handwriting-on-the-wall exhibition by the Browns, four-time champions of the NFL's Eastern Division.

The Eagles held Coach Paul Brown's usually potent offense to 47 yards on the ground and checked Otto Graham with only 97 yards in the air. The Eagles, on the other hand, smashed through Cleveland's leaky defense for 215 yards running and riddled the Browns' usually impregnable secondary for 182 yards passing.

Lions 48, Bears 23

DETROIT (AP)—Rookie Bill Bowman, 210 pounds of fullback fury, combined with the versatile Doak Walker Sunday to lead the Detroit Lions to a 48-23 victory over the Chicago Bears in the season's league opener before 52,343 in Briggs Stadium.

Bowman scored two touchdowns—one of them on a 100-yard kickoff return—while Walker accounted for 21 points on 2 touchdown runs, 6 extra points and a field goal.

Detroit, slow in starting, clinched the victory with a 24-point burst in the final eight minutes as Walker raced 70 and 3 yards for touchdowns.

The defending champion Lions, 14½ point favorites, were held to a 17-17 tie at halftime and led by only one point going into the final period.

Then the Bears, who had stayed close behind on the brilliant passing of rookie Zeke Bratkowski, and veteran George Blanda, faded badly.

Giants 41 Cards 10

CHICAGO (AP)—Charlie Conerly shot two scoring passes to rookie end Bob Schnelker, and another fledgling, quarterback Bobby Clatterbuck, accounted for two more touchdowns as the New York Giants Sunday smothered the Chicago Cardinals 41-10.

Conerly hit the 6-4 Schnelker—from Bowling Green—on a 45-yard payoff play at 2:31 of the first period to start the Giants rolling to the lopsided National Football League opening triumph before 16,780 Comiskey Park customers.

Giants scoring: Touchdowns, Schnelker 2, MacAfee, Clatterbuck, Long. Conversions, Arajanian 5. Field goals, Arajanian 2.
Cardinals scoring: Touchdowns, Goble. Conversions, Summerall. Field goal, Summerall.

Rams 48, Colts 0

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams went 80 yards to score on the first play of a new National Football League season with an old-fashioned sleeper trick Sunday and then proceeded to slaughter the Baltimore Colts 48-0.

Halfback Skeet Quinlan stayed near his bench's sideline against a background of the same uniforms while the other 10 Rams lined up in the middle of the field on their own 20 after the Colts' opening kickoff went over the goal.

None of the Colts and few of the 36,215 fans noticed Quinlan as he tore down the field at the snap of the ball. He took a pass from Norman Van Brocklin of the 45 and had clear sailing the rest of the way.

The Rams added two field goals before the quarter ended and two touchdowns in the second period to run up a 27-0 lead at the half.

The defeat was worse than the two administered by the Rams last year to the Colts who this season have a new coach, Weeb Ewbank.

Los Angeles	13	14	7	14—48
Baltimore	0	0	0	0— 0

Los Angeles scoring: Touchdowns—Quinlan 2, Towler, Wade, Hirsch, Younger. Conversions—Richter 4, Carey 2. Field Goals, Carey, Richter.

Steelers 21, Packers 20

GREEN BAY, Wis., (AP)—Jimmy Finks, veteran Pittsburgh quarterback from Tulsa, passed for three touchdowns Sunday as the Steelers nosed out the Green Bay Pakers 21-20 in the opening National Professional Football game.

The Packers, who had beaten Pittsburgh in an exhibition game, matched the Steelers on the ground but they had little defense against the sharp shots by Finks who has been around the professional circuit for six years. Sharing honors with Finks in the Pittsburg victory was Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame star of 1953 and Ray Mathews, fast-moving halfback from Clemson.

It was a 37-yard pass from Finks to Mathews in the last five minutes of play that pulled the Steelers up to a tie with Green Bay. A conversion boot by Paul Held then gave the Steelers the winning margin.

Pittsburgh	7	7	0	7—21
Green Bay	7	10	3	0—20

Pittsburgh scoring: Touchdowns, Lattner, Nickell, Mathews. Conversions: Kissell, 2. Held.
Green Bay scoring: Touchdowns, Reid, Howton. Conversions, Cone, 2. Field goals, Cone.

49ers 41, Redskins 7

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco's 49ers launched their try for the 1954 National Football League championship Sunday with a 41-7 victory over the Washington Redskins. The local club, ranked as a standout contender for the title, was in complete command from the opening kickoff.

The 49ers, with balding quarterback Y. A. Tittle directing almost all the attack, smashed and passed to two touchdowns each in the first, second and final quarters. The crowd was 34,485.

Washington, making its first league appearance under new Coach Kuharich, broke into the scoring column in the third quarter.

The 49ers scored shortly after the game opened on a 58-yard march, highlighted by a 51-yard gain by fullback Joe Perry.

Washington	0	0	7	0— 7

Peru Seeks More Contenders After Stopping Wayne Threat

It is said that a sports champion prefers to meet the best opponents available in order to convince himself and the public that he deserves to hold the title.

Proud Peru, defending king of the Nebraska College Conference, last week destroyed the threat of vaunted Wayne State Teachers and today scans the state for other opponents who stand between the Bobcats and a third straight NCC crown.

Peru broke the Wayne challenge with a fourth quarter attack which scored two touchdowns and built a 20-14 triumph.

This week the southeast Nebraska club is at home against Chadron, the surprise winner over Wesleyan by 6-0.

The Kearney squad which was tabbed as the big threat to Peru was upset by Hastings, 21-19, in the traditional hot clash between the two central state schools.

The loss was serious for the hopes of Coach Preacher Franklin's Antelopes while the Broncos of Hastings now assume the position of a respected challenger of Peru.

Kearney is at Wesleyan Friday and Hastings is at home against strong Doane Saturday.

Coach Fran Nagle's Doane team was impressive in the 21-6 victory over weak Midland but will jump into a bigger battle against the Broncos. The Hastings line which performed in front of slick Charley Stickles, Bronco quarterback, was effective in the defeat of Kearney and may be too much for Doane.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

A crisis struck the University of Nebraska football camp shortly after its opening this fall.

When Head Trainer Paul Schneider suddenly became ill, two immediate concerns arose. The first was Paul himself and second was the effect his absence would have on the training room routine.

Concern No. 1 continued to plague everyone for quite a spell. But Paul — a first class trainer, true friend of the players and a wonderful fellow in general — rallied from his serious illness and has finally made it home from the hospital. He won't be back on the job for some three or four weeks yet, and then the going will be slow.

One reason for Paul's improvement has been that concern No. 2 never existed and he hasn't had to worry about "The Office."

Taking the loss of "The Boss's" service in stride and cheerfully doubling up on the chores, Paul's two aids—NU Physical Therapist George Finley Sullivan and assistant trainer James Louis Van Deusen have kept the training room program rolling efficiently and effectively.

Right now—until "The Boss" returns—G. Finley is masterminding the department which includes Jim and two other hard workers. George Gohde, the former Husker gridder and diver, and Jack Ward, head freshmen trainer.

Don't get the idea Paul isn't missed. Far from it. Just take a look at what preparations are required in order to get the Husker players on the field for one practice session and you can see how the loss of one man—especially the most experienced—would be felt.

Taping is the big time consumer. For each practice—for three weeks it was twice a day—34 ankles, six wrists, one knee and five thumbs must be taped regularly (the list could grow with additional casualties, but this list includes the steady customers.)

In addition, eight special pads must be prepared and placed on the players and 12 ankles must be specially wrapped. For each session 30 rolls of inch and a half half and 10 rolls of one inch tape are expended.

To top all this, about 16 special treatments— massages, lamps, exercises, whirlpool baths etc. —are given by Sullivan and Van Deusen before each practice.

Ankle injuries are the most common, according to Finley, but this year has seen a rash of knee afflictions. Prior to Saturday's game eight cases of knee trouble had occurred, with two operations necessary (Chuck Smith and Jim Yeisley) to remove damaged cartilage.

Sullivan started his Husker training room career in 1951 under Schneider's predecessor, Blaine Rideout. He continued his Field House work — pausing long enough to pick up a diploma with a major in physical education — until the spring of 1952 when he signed up as trainer for the Lincoln A's.

After the A's season he enrolled in the University of Iowa's physical therapy school, graduating in September 1953 — a full-fledged therapist. G. Finley made a quick trip back to Nebraska and joined the Student Health and Athletic Department staffs.

In addition to his training room and Student Health duties, Sullivan teaches a course in training room methods for the Physical Education department.

A native of Rockville, Neb., Sullivan is married to the former Genie Pearson of Valentine and has two sons, Greg, 2, and Gary, three months—both Cornhusker Kernels.

Van also started his work under Rideout in 1951 and has been a permanent fixture since. During the past baseball season he served as tape and ointment man for the Lincoln Chiefs at Sherman Field.

J. Louis, who will graduate from the university in June with a PE degree, is a native of Hooper, Neb., and is married to his hometown sweetheart, the former Jan Moeller.

You can bet these two miss Mr. Schneider, but they are quick to tell you that their main interest now is to see "The Boss" get well. And Paul can take his time and mend thoroughly because he and the Huskers are fortunate enough to have a pair of fellows capable of stepping into the breach and carrying on without a hitch.

Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Van Deusen, take a bow.

Husker Failings Balance Assets

Clark, Smith, Bryant Shine But Second Unit Needs More Work

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Coach Bill Glassford, some 1,500 Nebraskans who ventured to Minneapolis and press and radio representatives have seen the 1954 Cornhuskers in action and the picture is both encouraging and ominous.

It was a better Minnesota football team—at least Saturday—that beat the Huskers, 19-7. That much is certain.

The Gophers were able to move the ball when the chips were down and they were able to hold the best efforts of Nebraska—except Ron Clark—under similar conditions.

Minnesota had a fine set of backs who can score and a line that was deep enough to halt the Huskers. But it may yet—and probably will—prove to be a second division Big Ten club.

What about Nebraska? It's case can best be pointed out by comparing the unfortunate occurences Saturday with the good.

Husker Assets

Here are the assets as indicated against the Gophers:

1. Ron Clark, by twisting, turning and galloping for 110 yards in 13 carries—an eight yard plus average—gave notice that he hasn't lost his gridiron touch. Ron was the best back on the field and his touchdown run was a masterpiece of determination, deception and speed. And except for a weakened ankle that gave way a couple of times, he might have broken away for more TD jaunts.

2. Squad morale is high. The Huskers played their hearts out to the final second, yielding the final touchdown only because of sheer exhaustion.

3. Defensively, Nebraska's first unit is tough when reasonably fresh.

4. Bob Smith is good for short yardage, packing a terrific punch when called on.

5. Guard Charlie Bryant is coming into his own. He played a tremendous game against the Gophers, getting valuable assistance from Bob Wagner. Credit assistant Coach Don Strasheim for improved guard play.

Weak Spots

Liabilities noted:

1. The quarterback situation is much more acute than was indicated earlier. Loss of Rex Fischer may have been more damaging than expected. Dan Brown did yoeman work, but he didn't get relief and pitchouts were sometimes faulty. Don Erway didn't get to do any offensive work except punting, so a question still remains.

2. Nebraska's second string unit is not nearly a strong as it was expected to be. With Minnesota's second unit full of ambition and the Husker counterpart ragged, Glassford was forced to use his first eleven more than anticipated. Consequently, the first group ran out of steam at the end.

3. Physical conditioning is still needed and Glassford indicated this would be attended to quickly.

Passes Absent

Two things stood out because of their absence. One was the failure to pass more—Clark and Brown hit four for seven, short but effective — and the other was the fact that Willie Greenlaw wasn't given more opportunity to run and pass.

Willie's left-handed passing has been a fine fall practice weapon, but he was only called upon once and was caught behind the line for a loss.

Inability to get the second unit working offensively hurt because Glassford still doesn't know just how that group — and particularly Erway — will react to game conditions.

What it boils down to is that Nebraska must develop a more effective passing attack; improve the quarterbacking; make better use of Smith's power running as well as Greenlaw's educated feet and southpaw flinging; and get more experience for the second unit and better conditioning.

Glassford knows this and is planning to deal with the situation. Since the desire is present—the boys showed that—with a little more work, Nebraska could be very tough in the Big Seven (which, incidentally, had a bad Saturday, winning only three of seven ball games with non-conference foes).

Oakles Win

Victors were Colorado (defeating Colorado A&M, 46-0), Oklahoma (defeating a stubborn TCU club, 21-16) and Kansas State (defeating Wyoming, 21-13).

Oklahoma's win may prove the costliest with Gene Calame, a quarterback deluxe, possibly lost for the remainder of the season with a broken shoulder. However, sub Jim Harris piloted the squad to victory and may be another in the long chain of Bud Wilkinson miracle signal-callers.

On the losing side were Nebraska, Kansas (trailed UCLA, 32-7), Missouri (trailed Purdue, 31-0) and Iowa State (trailed Northwestern, 27-14, in a thriller that indicated Vince Di Francesca's Cyclones can't be taken lightly).

These same Cyclones move into Memorial Stadium here next Saturday to open the Cornhusker home season and it promises to be a real tussle.

If Nebraska can plug a few holes, polish its attack and prime some subs to spell the No. 1 unit, the home debut should be a pleasant one. But if by chance the Huskers count off the Cyclones as an automatic victory, look out.

Iowa State would like nothing better than to give Di Francesca a triumph in his league debut—and with about 40 fellows who "want to play football" they will visit Lincoln itchin' for Husker blood.

Minneapolis Sidelights — Attending Nebraska's pre-game workout and the press party before the game were ex-Gopher coaches Bernie Bierman and Wes Fesler and Minnesota athletic director Ike Armstrong. Also on hand was Fred (Terrible Tom) Thomsen, former Nebraska high school coach and later long-time mentor at Arkansas U. We bumped into Mickey Rooney in the hotel lobby. Mickey, who attended a Nebraska game at Lincoln in 1939, was in town to line up a new show and couldn't make the contest . . . the Gophers are not confining their talent hunts in the Big 10 territory to football players alone. New drum major of the fine 135-piece Minnesota marching band is Don Olsen of Flint, Mich., a recent transfer from Michigan State. The Gopher band is a quick-stepping outfit, with the drummers running on the field ahead of the tooters and then providing double-time cadence for the latter . . . pride and joy of the Minnesota student body is the "Golden Gopher"—a frisky student dressed in a bright gold costume resembling a king-size Gopher. He trapises around the staduim much like "Oskie," the famed California bear at Berkeley that performed on TV during the Oklahoma-Cal game recently.

The game Saturday was probably the last between the two schools—at least for many years. Nebraska has scheduled Ohio State for the next two years. Minnesota is going to schedule eight Big 10 games and Ike Armstrong, Gopher athletic director, is interested in filling the remaining two spots on the slate with West Coast teams.

Spooner Does It Again

BROOKLYN (AP)—Karl Spooner, rookie southpaw, established a new National League strikeout record for two consecutive games today and pitched his second successive shutout as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0 in the final game of the year on Gil Hodges' 42nd home run.

The 23-year-old Spooner, who struck out 15 batters in blanking the New York Giants Wednesday, fanned 12 more in his second start for a two-game total of 27. That bettered the league record of 25 set by Dazzy Vance, also of Brooklyn, in 1926 and again in 1928. Warren Spahn, Milwaukee southpaw, fanned 29 in two consecutive games in 1952 but one of the games went 15 innings.

Bob Feller holds the major league mark of 28, set in 1938.

Despite his superlative effort, Spooner was hard put to win. His mound opponent, Jake Thies, young Pittsburgh righthander, matched him pitch for pitch until Hodges came through with his homer in the seventh. Thies had retired 19 straight batters between Junior Gilliam's leadoff single and Hodges' one-out blow in the seventh.

Bosox Clinch Fourth

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, who has threatened to make this his last year in baseball, smashed his 29h home run Sunday and Sammy White hit two homers as the Boston Red Sox clinched fourth place in the American League with an 11-2 victory over Washington.

A crowd of 14,175 gave the great Boston slugger a standing ovation as he walked to the plate in the eighth inning after his seventh frame wallop and again when he was replaced by Karl Olson with two out in the ninth.

Ted finished the season with an actual .345 average based on 386 times at bat but was second with a .325 behind Cleveland's Bobby Avila (.341) for the necessary 400 official trips.

Boston clinched the last share of the world series money in the junior circuit with a five-run seventh which Williams started by tagging reliefer Gus Keriazakos' 1-0 pitch. White followed with his 14th homer of the season and second of the afternoon—a three run clout into the left field screen.

Lincoln High's visit to Grand Island features the fourth week of of football for the Capital City high schools.

Revenge plays a part in each one of the four games on tap Friday.

First is the Lincoln-Grand Island game, which will do much toward deciding the 1954 mythical state champion. The Links are out to get even for the 40-0 pasting they took from the Islanders last year.

Cathedral plays tough St. Bonaventure of Columbus. It will be the first home game for the Bluebirds, who last year lost to St. Bonaventure, 31-6.

Beatrice, enthused over two victories after going two seasons without winning, seeks revenge over Northeast at Magee Stadium. Northeast won last year, 34-6.

Wahoo, one of the top Class B teams in the state, plays host to College View and will be thinking about the 19-7 licking the Viewmen dished out in their meeting last year.

No "0-0"

The only safe prediction yuo can make about the Lincoln-Grand Island game is that it won't be a scoreless tie.

At the end of last season, anybody would have picked Grand Island by a wide margin. Now, it seems that Lincoln has a slight edge. The fact that the game is at Grand Island, where the Islanders always seem measurably tougher, takes away any apparent Lincoln advantage.

True, the Islanders won 40-0 last year—but they seem to have lost their scoring magic. In the meantime, Lincoln has developed into a powerhouse similar to the 1951 and 1952 state champions.

St. Bon Visits

The St. Bonaventure - Cathedral game should provide Lincoln fans with good football entertainment. This is the one Cathedral has been pointing for, and the winner of the game at College View field will have been through a long evening.

Both teams are fast, hard-hitting elevens. St. Bon has a 2-1 record, having lost to Blair, while Cathedral is undefeated after three games.

Northeast, which has been just good enough to win its first three games, should be able to burst the Beatrice bubbble Friday night. The Rockets showed what they can do by beating Grand Island—and although they were hard-pressed by Nebraska City and Fremont, they did rally when the pressure was on.

College View, beaten by three Class A teams, probably won't find the drop to Class B competition helpful to the won-lost record. Wahoo owns two victories and a tie with Seward and shares third and fourth place with Seward in The Star's Class B ratings. The Viewmen still haven't found a steady offensive punch.

Andrews, Turner Go Tops Slate

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Turner, hoping to get back into the welterweight top flight, risks an Oct. 15 shot with Carmen Basilio when he takes on Al Andrews in Chicago Wednesday night.

Turner beat Andrews, of Superior, Wis., in a close scrap in Chicago, Aug. 18. Andrews is ranked eighth currently while Turner, who lost a title scrap to champion Kid Gavilan, is not ranked. The Philadelphia windmill puncher is scheduled to face Basilio, the No. 1 contender, in Syracuse, N.Y. CBS telecasts the 10-rounder nationally.

Another interesting bout matches heavyweights Coley Wallace of New York and eighth-ranking Bob Baker of Pittsburgh in a 10-rounder at Cleveland's Central Armory Friday night. (NBC radio and TV). A return heavyweight bout the same night matches Earl Walls of Toronto and Edgardo Romero of Argentina at Edmonton, Alta. The 248-pound Argentine husky upset Walls in July.

Two Monday

Two good scraps are on tap for TV fans in some sections of the country Monday night. At Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, undefeated Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn faces Gene Smith of Washington, once a top featherweight contender. This one will be telecast by ABC-TV.

At New York's St. Nicholas Arena (DuMont-TV), Bobby Bickle, a free-swinging college clouter from Topeka, Kan., makes his network TV debut as a pro against Danny Jo Perez, a rangy New York lightweight.

In Caracas, Venezuela, featherweight champion Sandy Saddler of New York meets Mexico's Baby Ortiz in a non-title 10 Monday night. The same night, heavyweight Rex Layne faces Hans Friedrich of Germany in Salt Lake City.

The week end turnout at Pioneers was over 450.

Early results in the Lincoln Country Club handicap tournament show a tight field. The competition covers four rounds.

Among the leaders are W. H. Browne 69-69, Coe Dalrymyle 66-67, Bill Mowbray Jr. 68-72-71, Mark Lange 75-63-63, Frank Roberts 70-68-63, Floyd Chance 70-70-69, Fred Patz 72-69-69 and Walley DeBrown 283 for the four rounds.

There will be prizes for low net and low gross.

Rural 'Nose Count' Ready To Go; Results Vital To City, Farm Planning

Forms Are Lengthy But Necessary

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

The big nosecounting season is about to get underway for you farmers — for you, your livestock and about everything you own.

It's the big 1954 Census of Agriculture which will be getting under way throughout the United States in a short while. It's a painstaking thing, this nosecount, but it is also vital to any farmer's business. Just as vital as is the annual inventory no good business man would think of doing without.

The farm census is taken just once every five years, but its purpose is much the same as is the private businessman's counting of his stock. The government makes wide use of the results of the census in formulating its administrative policies. And the private citizens have profited from the census findings in many strange ways.

For instance, there are many instances in which citizens have used the census to verify the fact that they were born. Reasons for this is these citizens do not have their births registered and do not have birth certificates.

On the national level, about 31,000 enumerators will be employed in the canvass. Over these will be 2,200 crew leaders. About 120 field offices will be established. In Nebraska, the counting will be divided between three large districts, one covering roughly the southern two tiers of counties, another covering northeastern Nebraska from about the Hall-Hamilton County line northward. The final district covers the balance of the state, including the vast Sandhills.

In charge of the southern district is Miles W. Johnston of Lincoln who has been named supervisor to be in charge of 14 crew leaders and 177 enumerators. His office is already engaged in preliminary work, including organization of the field office, interviewing applicants for jobs and other tasks.

The counties in the southern district include:

Chasel Dundy, Hayes, Hitchcock, Frontier, Red Willow, Gosper, Furnas, Phelps, Harlan, Franklin, Kearney, Adams, Webster, Clay, Nuckolls, Fillmore, Thayer, Jefferson, Saline, Lancaster, Gage, Johnson, Nemaha, Pawnee and Richardson.

Plans call for sending the questionaire to each of the farmers living in the state. The form will contain about 100 questions on the detailed holdings of the farm proper. The enumerator will call personally at each of the farms after the mailing and go over the form with the farmer.

Johnston stressed one point in regard to the census. That point is simply that no farmer has anything to fear from the nature of the answers he gives the enumerator. All information asked for by the enumerator and given by the farmer will be held in the strictest confidence. Not even the FBI, let alone the tax collector, will be able to get a look into the enumerator's files.

When the official publication of the census is made following compilation of the data, all names of persons answering questions will be omitted. Johnston said this protection has been placed in the census regulations through an act of Congress.

An idea of the size of the big nosecount in just one district of just one state can be gotten by a look at the total of farm residents in the area. Johnston said there are 107,174 farms in his section of the state. These farms cover an estimated 47,360,000 acres. He expects that his crew will be able to wade through the job by Dec. 1 or Dec. 15, depending upon the weather.

The questionnaire is a large thing. Folded over three times in width and four times in depth, it forms the shape of a large envelope. There are sections on everything from forest products to off-farm work. Just one section, "Sheep and Lambs," for instance, asks the number of ewes, rams, wethers and lambs of all ages on the place.

The form is lengthy, but not complicated, and any farmer with books half-way in order should be able to dispose of this task in a short while. At any rate, the time spent over the form will be time well spent for everyone in the country. It is as important for the government to know our strength agriculturally as it is to know our strength militarily.

Too Many Speechless People In Churches—Rev. Lowson

There are too many silent, speechless people in the churches, the Rev. J. E. Lowson said in his first sermon at Epworth Methodist Church Sunday morning.

"Evangelism is the great task committed to the church by Jesus," he said. "In the beginning it was a layman's movement."

The story of Philip's conversion of the Ethiopian official was an example of this evangelism, the Rev. Mr. Lowson said.

"There are a lot of people in our world waiting for someone who can give them guidance concerning their spiritual life," he said. "We are to be witnesses, tell the good news. We are to tell others of what we have seen and heard and experienced of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior."

Th Rev. Mr. Lowson said a witnessing church is needed. He said persons who can honestly speak a good word for Christ when the opportunity presents itself are needed.

"These opportunities do come true," he said. "We have to begin with people where they are, and tell them of this wonderful Savior, and what He can do, how He is able to save."

But, he told his congregation, many opportunities to speak a word for Christ are missed.

"How easy we Christians allow ourselves to miss golden opportunities to guide and help other people in a time of need," he said. "We hesitate. We turn to casual conversation. We are afraid to venture and the door of opportunity closes. A witness must be direct and tell what he knows."

The Rev. Mr. Lowson said that at the beginning of his ministry, he wanted to give witness that Christ meant everything to him.

"He has enriched my life beyond measure, given me something bigger than myself to live for," he said, "and I can say with Paul, believe in Jesus, take Him at His word, and He will never disappoint you."

State Demos Seek $90,000 For Campaign

OMAHA (AP)— The Nebraska Democratic finance committee has set a budget of $90,000 for the general election campaign fund.

Of this amount, the committee said, $50,000 is being apportioned to the individual county organizations, and the remainder will be sought from other sources.

"We're not asking for any more than we need." Committee Chairman Frank Sorrell of Syracuse said. "There will be no extra help, no frills."

Sorrell had estimated before the meeting that more than $90,000 would be needed, but he said the committee had made every effort to shave the budget request.

The county-by-county breakdown was not announced, but Sorrell said the committee is looking to every county and every precinct organization to carry its share of the campaign load.

Come Forward

He said if county chairmen don't solicit precinct chairmen promptly, the committee hopes the precinct workers will come forward with their contributions.

"We look for better response in rural areas this year than we have had before," Sorrell said, because of falling farm prices.

Sorrell and Leo J. Beck of Lincoln, Democratic state treasurer, said they feared the farmers might not realize the full importance of the situation confronting them now because the effect of Republican farm legislation will not be felt until after the election.

'Prices Dropping Fast'

"Prices were dropping fast enough," Sorrell said. "It was not necessary to help bring them down by voting a drop from 90 to 82½ per cent" of parity for support prices.

He estimated that under the new support price regulations the support price of wheat would go down about 50 cents a bushel.

Beck interjected there is no assurance that the prices of things farmers buy will go down and the 82½ per cent actually will mean a greater loss to the farmer because of high prices of implements, etc.

He added that the Administration's tax reduction bill is the "biggest joke that has ever been seen in this country."

The two men said their goal is to make the people clear down to the precinct level realize "how serious the situation is and how necessary it is to send enough Democrats back to Washington" to provide effective control of legislation—enough to override a presidential veto.

This is the first meeting of the finance committee since its formation at the state convention earlier in September.

SA Divisional Head Speaks Before 500

The divisional commander of the Salvation Army of Nebraska, South Dakota, and Western Iowa called for a spiritual rebirth Sunday at the annual Harvest Festival in Lincoln.

An estimated 500 Lincolnites attended the conferences during the first two of a three day conference. An auction will be held Monday night at the Citadel for the benefit of the Army's home missionaries.

Col. Baldwin spoke in both morning and evening sessions Sunday. In calling for a spiritual re-birth, Col. Baldwin said "we are the victims of circumstances and conditions as naturally as we are individuals."

The only escape from circumstances and conditions, he said, "is only through a spiritual impact." He added that "man can subject all circumstances and conditions to his own spiritual vision." He concluded that "the spiritual takes supremacy over the material reactions."

The meetings at the Citidel are under the direction of Capt. Walter Kennedy, commander of the Lincoln unit of the Salvation Army. Appearing on the program also were Senior Captain and Mrs. William Dixon, divisional youth secretaries.

Final Report On St. Pius X Drive Tuesday

Final report meetings in the campaign to raise funds for the construction of the new Catholic high school, Saint Pius X Central, will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in each of the six Catholic parishes.

Last audited reports showed that 2,024 persons had pledged a total of $501,122. The Rev. Murray said 513 persons remain to be called upon by the campaign workers.

The Rev. Jerome Murray, executive director of the campaign, said that money pledged so far will be used as the nucleus of the building fund. The building committee plans to construct the high school according to the amount pledged.

"Construction will be so planned," the Rev. Murray said, "to enable us to make additions to the school as enrollment requires. Eventually, we hope to have a $1 million building."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Father Arrested In Slaying

...Daughter Strangled

TOWSON, Md. (Monday) (AP) — The father of 6-year-old Judith Ann Roberts surrendered early today to authorities who had ordered his arrest in connection with her abduction and slaying in Miami last July 7.

James Roberts, Baltimore attorney and labor leader, walked into the Baltimore County police station here at 12:17 a.m. with his partner, Harold J. Hastings Jr. and his wife.

An indictment returned by the Dade County, Fla., grand jury Friday accuses the 43-year-old father of murdering his daughter by "strangling and striking" her. The second count of the indictment charges "an abominable and detestable crime against nature or kidnaping" of the girl.

Also named in both counts in the indictment are a "John Doe and or Mary Roe."

(At the Towson Police headquarters, the portly Roberts was led to the office of Detective Capt. Carroll V. Simmons.

Hearing Later

Young State's Atty. John E Raine Jr. of Baltimore County said Roberts had indicated he would waive extradition to Miami, where Judith Ann was spirited from the home of her maternal grandparents and slain. Raine said a hearing will be held later today in Baltimore County Circuit Court.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Venno and William McCrory said they planned to take Roberts back to Florida by automobile immediately after the hearing before Judge J. Howard Murray.

Representing Florida at the extradition proceedings will be State's Atty. George Brautigam of Dade County.

A fugitive warrant was issued by Magistrate Thomas J. Hughes. After Roberts had failed to appear nearly two hours later, a police pickup order was issued. A short time later he called Raine and asked if such an order was out and notified the state's attorney he would report immediately.

2 Resorts In Path Of 8th Fire

300 Evacuated From Blaze Area

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)— Flames burst out of a deep canyon, flanked firelines on a ridge above, and raced toward two mountain resort communities north of here Sunday.

More than 300 persons including 71 youngsters and parents from a crippled children's camp were evacuated as the flames roared toward cabins and summer homes at Cedar Pines and Job's Peak.

Five thousand acres have been blackened by the blaze—worst of eight which have swept over nearly 19,000 acres in one of California's most critical fire weeks in history.

Suspect Freed

Smoke arose 19,000 feet over the San Bernardino Mountains, drifted over this city—which lies near the south limits of the blaze—and rained ashes on Lake Arrowhead, only five miles to the northeast of the fire.

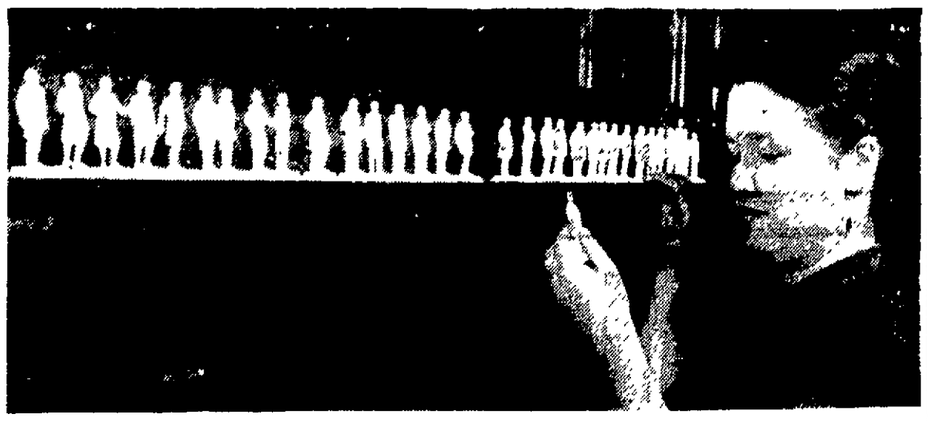

Sheriff's deputies freed one man seized as a suspected arsonist. But an investigation of the possibility continued. Fire fighters released from other southern California blazes were being thrown into the struggle, augmenting 600 men now on the lines.

Bauer said the Paivika Camp for Crippled Children was evacuated Saturday night, a few hours after the fire broke out. Forty families in the upper end of Devil's Canyon were told to leave before nightfall.

About 4:30 a.m. Sunday the resort community of Cedar Pines was ordered evacuated.

Halstead said about 200 persons left the community. He estimated more than 10 cabins dot the area of Cedar Pines and Job's Peak, which also was ordered evacuated.

A Forest Service spokesman said the evacuation was ordered precautionarily before the fire reached either Cedar Pines or Job's Peak. He said if the flames couldn't be stopped in the bottom of Devil's Canyon it would be "just a matter of time" before they reach the communities.

Base Painters' Dispute Still In Stalemate

A stalemate continued through the week end between an Omaha painting and decorator contractor and painters working at the Lincoln Air Base.

John H. Devereux, business agent for the Painters' District Council No. 7, said attempted settlement of the work stoppage had failed. The talks had been going on since Thursday when the workers either walked off their jobs or were refused work.

The question of whether the men walked off or were told to go home had not been settled following the talks.

The contractor, Fred C. Christensen of Omaha, said there was a walkout, while Devereux said the men working at the base, about 23, had been sent home from the job after showing up for work.

Devereaux said Sunday night the dispute was over the firing of a man by the contractor who claimed the painter was a labor agitator. The union, Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers Local 18, had demanded the man be re-hired before returning to their jobs.

Devereux said he didn't believe the strike would last indefinitely because the contractor's contract with the Air Force included a penalty clause setting a date for completion of the painting work.

Meetings in the dispute are expected to take up again Monday.

TIMELY REASONS WHY
You'll always be glad you bought a Chevrolet now!

1 You'll stay proud of Chevrolet's lasting good looks
Other low-priced cars just don't have the quality look you see in Chevrolet. And if you like Chevrolet's looks now, you'll like its looks always. For there's fine design in those clean and smoothly curved lines (nothing "boxy" about Chevrolet!). And fine design like this never really goes out of style.

2 You'll enjoy exclusive features for finer motoring
Chevrolet's the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. It has the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car, for more fun in the going and more miles out of the fuel. Chevrolet puts your safety first with the biggest brakes and the only full-length box-girder frame in the low-price field. It's the only car in its field with that smoother, softer Unitized Knee-Action ride.

3 You save when you buy and when you trade
Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. (That's possible because Chevrolet builds the most). And at trade-in time, you'll be ahead again from Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value!

4 You'll get a special deal right now
Right now, we're in a position to give you the deal of the year on a new Chevrolet. Come in and let us show you how much you'll gain by buying now!

'GM Defense Contracts Adding To Monopoly Conditions'—Jackson

Senator Cites 'Crisis' For Independents

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said Sunday that a concentration of defense contracts in General Motors Corp. by Secretary of Defense Wilson has "greatly contributed to 'monopolistic conditions in the auto industry and to the plight of the independent producers."

Jackson

In a statement issued by his office here, Jackson contended that defense contracts for General Motors had been increased $1,700,000,000 during the first 18 months of the Eisenhower administration.

During the same period, Jackson said new defense contracts "to all the other auto producers combined have declined by 395 million dollars." He added:

"These figures represent a startling reversal from the situation that prevailed during the 2½ years prior to the inauguration of the Eisenhower administration, during which the auto producers other than General Motors received more contracts than General Motors."

Defense Figure

He said the figures for this pre-Eisenhower period were: General Motors, about $5,300,000,000 in net new contracts; other producers, six billion dollars.

Jackson, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he obtained the figures from the Defense Department and commented:

"I can only conclude that the concentration of these contracts in General Motors must reflect a settled procurement policy of the Defense Department under Secretary Wilson."

'Forced Mergers'

Jackson said this occurred during a "severe crisis for the independent automobile manufacturers" that already has "forced three mergers."

While General Motors has been earning record profits and maintaining employment near peaks, Jackson said its smaller competitors have reduced profits or were "in the red" with forced layoffs and even a pay cut by Studebaker.

Jackson's statement did not refer to the fact that Secretary Wilson resigned as president of General Motors before becoming head of the Defense Department. He was required by the Armed Services Committee to dispose of his stock and interests in General Motors before the committee recommended confirmation.

Coeds Become Handywomen

A group of University of Nebraska coeds leave their books behind and turn to the fine art of interior decoration. The girls, members of Delta Gamma sorority, are part of a crew of feminine workers who are helping the Lincoln Braille Club redecorate the interior of its clubrooms at 2915 No 48th. Janet Kuska of Omaha (left kneeling) dips into a can of varnish while Ruth Ann Lucke of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., puts another coat of paint on a cabinet drawer. Judge White Heads Governor's Group

Lancaster District Judge Paul White has been appointed chairman of a governor's conference on administrative procedure in Nebraska, Gov. Robert Crosby announced.

The conference is being formed in response to a State Bar Association committee resolution. The group suggested the conference be set up to promote improvement in administrative procedure in state government agencies.

The governor and Judge White will appoint other conference members this week. A membership of at least 20 was recommended by the bar group.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

A sort of hysterical boom is shaking Las Vegas, Nevada. Real estate prices jump by the hour. A hot dog stand lot on the desert went for $85,000 just the other day

"I was making a deal on Boulder Highway,' said a real estate man. "We came to a price. My principal said OK By the time I got back to sign, the owner raised the price.

'My principal said OK to the new price By the time I got back, the price went up again. We never did get the property."

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, the flat desert around Las Vegas seems inexhaustible. And so does the money of 2,000,000 people who come here each year to romance Lady Luck.

Seven major hotels are running on the Strip. The plush and enormous Desert Inn; the fabulous Flamingo that "Bugsy" Siegel's jack built, the Thunderbird; Rancho Vegas; the Last Frontier (now being remodeled into the New Frontier): the new Sahara, the Sands where Rita Hayworth celebrated her glittering nuptials.

Every hotel packs turnaway crowds for the highest priced floor shows in America.

Every hotel casino stays open 24 hours a day. With enormous free breakfasts for all-night gamblers.

When the call comes: "All bets down?", I have never seen such a flutter of $100 bills.

Las Vegas was not touched by Midas. It was hit over the head.

☆ ☆ ☆

The big seven on the Strip are not nearly enough to handle the Las Vegas crowds.

Now building are the nine-story Riviera, the Royal Nevada, the Dunes and the Star Dust.

Every present hotel is adding 100 to 500 rooms. Elegant motels, flaming with neon-lit swimming pools and slot machines, line the highways. And still the public clamors at the doors for room and more room.

Texas oil men, gamblers, varnished blondes, movie stars and intent eldderly ladies crowd two deep around the dice tables. The slot machines stand side by side and ring merrily 24 hours a day.

A curious thing in Nevada hotels is that they have practically no lobby. The weary traveler hangs on the lever of the slot machine. And seems happy to do so.

Bang, crash, clatter! Bang crash, clatter! Far into the early morning.

"The only thing I'm afraid of," said Mr. Benny Goffstein at the Flamingo, "is that they'll overbuild and some of these gamblers will get too hungry. Let that happen and Las Vegas would be through."

With the gambling take as it stands, Las Vegas is able to outbid any night club in the world for talent.

Marlene Dietrich draws $90,000 for three weeks. A couple of songs for a couple of weeks pays Frankie Sinatra $25,000 per. Enough to get off the twin hazards of Hollywood —divorce and income tax.

Hotels book a name band, two high-priced combos to alternate at the bar and casino, a startling line of the best looking chorus girls in America, three to four top acts They top this off with Ted Lewis, Joe E. Lewis or Ritz Brothers The kind of combination that you can't touch under $75,000 a week

And the more they spend, the faster it comes in.

"I haven't seen anything like this since Florida," a gambler told me. "If this boom ever busts, the rush for the fence will be something to see."

With all this rush of wealth, the investors are extremely shy. Nobody seems to be able to tell just where the money comes from to build the multi-million-dollar palaces. Gambling money builds spotlights but doesn't care to shine in them.

"Matter of fact," said a gambler, "we get most of the money now from the banks. Time was when a bank wouldn't give a biscuit for this kind of action. But now they see the money in this racket. And they wised up."

Shaken Town Eyes Integration

School Re-Opening Creates A Crisis

MILFORD, Del. (AP)— Opponents of integration Sunday urged Milford's white parents to keep their chilren home when the city's high school reopens Monday with 11 Negro pupils returning to their tenth grade class formerly composed of all white boys and girls.

Bryant Bowles, president of a group he formed and which he calls the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, told a crowd that he estimated at 5,000 at nearby Harrington Airport:—

"You certainly have the right to protect your child by keeping it at home if you are afraid there is going to be violence stirred up by the opposition. I would bar the door before it leaves and not after."

And William H. Macklin, who identified himself as a "74-year-old mayor of Cedar Creek," near Milford, told the applauding crowd which reporters estimated at between 2,000 and 3,000.

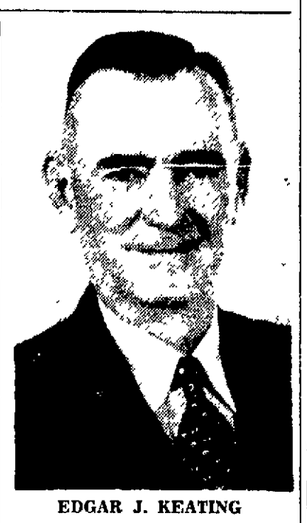

"If we keep our children home from school maybe somebody'll do something about this situation."

The reopening of the schools with white and Negro pupils integrated in the 25-year-old Lakeview Ave. high school is the center of a racial situation which has shaken this community of 5,700 to its roots.

Sunday's meeting at the privately-owned airport, eight miles from this race-tense town, was sponsored by the NAAWP, an organization formed last December by Bowles, a former Marine and resident of Alexandria, Va. It was incorporated in Delaware and maintains headquarters in Washington

A detail of six Delaware state policemen directed traffic along the road to the airport. Lines of cars clogged the two-lane road from noon until the meeting broke up four and a half hours later.

Milford Police Chief S. G. Powell scheduled a meeting with state police and town officials to lay final plans for patrolling the school area Monday morning when classes are scheduled to resume.

I Started To GUARANTEE This Shot 25 Years Ago

I ALWAYS LIKED to hunt and wanted to do more of it. But you know how it is . . . business keeps a man humpin' . . . and the best you can manage is a rushed week-end trip.

But I was determined to do more of the things I liked some day. The Man With The Guarantee showed me a plan that made it possible — and as I said — he gave me a Guarantee for this shot.

While I was still working, educating the kids, paying for the house, and building my business, the Guarantee protected my wife and family against loss of home and income in case I died.

Then, when I had my big expenses behind me, I quit work and my Guarantee started working for me. It's the best thing that ever happened to me and my wife. We do what we want . . . when we want to . . . and the Guarantee provides the income.

You, too, can call the shots in your future, if you start now on a plan with the Guarantee.

P. S. The shot was good. Got my bird.
